Survivalist enterprises are generally defined as businesses set up by people unable to find a paid job or get into an economic sector of their choice. Income generated from these activities usually falls far short of even a minimum income standard, with very little capital invested, virtually no skills training in the particular field and only limited opportunities for growth into a viable business. This category is characterised by poverty and the attempt to survive.

Micro enterprises are very small businesses, often involving only the owner, some family members and at the most one or two paid employees. They usually lack 'formality' in terms of business licenses, value-added tax (VAT) registration, formal business premises, operating permits and accounting procedures. Most of them have a limited capital base and only rudimentary technical or business skills among their operators. However, many micro enterprises advance into viable small businesses. Earning levels of micro enterprises differ widely, depending on the particular sector, the growth phase of the business and access to relevant support.

3.3.1. Price Adjustment Mechanism:

The following mechanism has been put in place to manage the process of handling price adjustments between OM and the supplier. The price adjustment mechanism has been broken down into the respective cost elements. It is very important to note that the supplier is responsible for ensuring that all cost elements are reflected on the cost breakdown sheet. The cost breakdown sheet will be the base used once the supplier has received an award as the successful bidder. These cost elements will be locked in for the duration of the agreement and can only be adjusted by following the price adjustment mechanism. The supplier must also take cognisance that cost management forms a major part of the supplier performance. In the event that OM receives a price adjustment for a cost element that is not on the cost breakdown sheet, then such price adjustment will not be accepted by OM as a valid ground for adjustment. The only exception will be if the supplier proposes a cost down initiative which will reduce the price to OM.

3.3.2. Material Price adjustment

30 (Thirty) days' notice period apply.

Kindly note that packaging, although mentioned separate on the price breakdown, is included under the material price adjustment mechanism.
